

A Guide for Selling a Residential Property in Tasmania

- 1 When you've made the decision to sell you want the process to be as easy as possible. You want to avoid lengthy delays, unexpected costs and uncertainty. Seek advice from us at lawlab before you sign any contract.
- 2 lawlab helps speed up the contract to settlement process by using the secure online property platform Rundl (www.rundl.com). If you are using a real estate agent, they will normally prepare a contract by completing the reference schedule pages of the standard contract for sale. If you are selling without using a real estate agent or require special conditions, we can assist you in preparing the contract and drafting special conditions to meet your needs. We aim to do this within 24 hours of receiving instructions.
- 3 Once you are satisfied with the terms of the contract, we or the real estate agent will issue the contract to the buyer for their signature and thereafter arrange for you to sign and date the contract. Once the contract is signed by both parties, it becomes legally binding. You can track the progress of your sale 24/7 using Rundl
- 4 At the same time of signing the contract, the buyer needs to pay a deposit. The deposit is negotiable but is usually 10% of the purchase price. It is a sign of their commitment to purchase the property. If the Buyer is in default of the contract at a later date (e.g. by not being able to settle) you may be entitled to terminate the contract and keep the deposit. Often the buyer is unable to pay a 10% deposit on signing the contract and may ask them to pay an initial deposit upfront and the balance at a later date (e.g. when finance is approved). The deposit is usually paid to the trust account of the real estate agent (or us if there is no real estate agent) to hold until settlement
- 5 There is currently no cooling off period in Tasmania so the buyer will not be able to get out of a contract unless the contract is subject to a condition for the benefit of the buyer (e.g. finance approval). If the contract is subject to a condition such as finance, prior to the expiry of the conditions, the buyer must give us notice of whether finance has been approved or not. If the buyer needs more time to satisfy the finance condition then they may request further time to do so (but this will be at your discretion). We will collaborate with the real estate agent and your broker or lender on Rundl so everyone is kept up to date on the progress of your purchase and can work together towards your settlement
- 6 The period between exchange and settlement is usually between 30 to 60 days but you can negotiate a longer or shorter period if required. If the buyer is obtaining finance, keep in mind that their lender may take at least 2 to 3 weeks to confirm formal approval, issue loan documents and be in a position to settle
- 7 If there is a mortgage over your property then you should contact your mortgagee as soon as possible to let them know that you have sold the property. They may ask you to sign a discharge authority so they can prepare a release of mortgage and liaise with us to organise settlement. You should also advise them which bank account you would like any surplus funds to be paid into. Your mortgagee will calculate a payout figure and advise us of this amount before settlement
- 8 If you hold the certificate of title deed for the property then we will need the original in advance of settlement
- 9 The buyer's solicitor usually prepares a transfer document and we will send this to you for you to sign in front of a witness. You should then return the original signed and witnessed transfer documents to us immediately

10

We will prepare settlement figures and send these to you for your approval prior to settlement. Our legal fees, any balance of the agent's commission and any outstanding outgoings (e.g. rates and water) will be deducted from the balance of settlement funds due to you.

11

Unless the property is sold subject to a tenancy, you should vacate the property at least one day before settlement. The keys need to be handed to your real estate agent for the buyer to collect at or after settlement

12

There is usually no need for you to attend settlement as we or our settlement agents will attend settlement on your behalf. Once settlement has occurred we will contact you immediately to advise that your sale has settled! After settlement, the real estate agent will account to you for any balance of the deposit after deducting their commission

13

After settlement the transfer of title and any discharge of mortgage will be lodged for registration at the land titles office. The local authorities also get notified of the change of ownership.

The conveyancing process of selling a property can be complex and confusing at times but as experienced conveyancing lawyers, lawlab will make your journey easier and you can be confident you are in safe hands.
